Senate Kills Move Against Filibusters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (P)—The Senate tonight killed the move to revise its rules and make it easier to break filibusters against civil rights measures on other legislation.

On a roll call vote, the Senate tabled and thus rejected a motion offered by a bipartisan bloc of 31 senators to take up for immediate consideration the adoption of new rules.

The vote to table was 55-38.

All but three of the Senate's 96 members voted. The absenteers who has not yet been sworn in; Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), a supporter of the rules change motion; and Sen. Neely (D-WVa), who has been ill. It was announced that both Wiley and Neely were opposed to tabling the motion.

Breakdown

Twenty-seven Democrats and 28 Republicans voted to table. They were opposed by 21 Democrats and 17 Republicans.

The tabling motion was made by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas and had the support of Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader. Southern senators also voted almost solidly in favor of killing the rules proposal.

The vote followed six hours of debate during which Vice President Nixon, in an opinion hailed by supporters of civil rights bills, said a majority of the Senate can change the chamber's rules at the start of a new Congress if it wishes to.

Nixon declared that, in his view, butting on any motions to alter a 1949 rule permitting endless filibusters is unconstitutional.

But backers of the rules change failed to muster a majority.

Defeat of the proposal was a blow to senators who had hoped to pave the way for the enactment of civil rights bills, but some of them said they felt such legislation still could be passed in the new Congress.

A similar attempt to revise the rules at the start of the 83rd Congress four years ago went down to defeat 70-21. Supporters of the 1957 proposal were heartened by additional strength they picked up in the debate.

United States, Britain Press For Action

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Jan. 4 (P)—The United States and Britain, backed by continued Red defiance of U. N. resolutions, pressed today for further General Assembly action on Hungary at an early date, perhaps next week.

Spokesmen for the two delegations said that both powers were consulting delegates but declined to give a hint as to the suggested course. Diplomatic sources said, however, that one plan was to create a special committee to hear testimony from Hungarian refugees, such as the ex-Cabinet minister, Anna Kethly.

While the discussions were going on, informed sources said Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold would make a report next week to the Assembly on the Hungarian situation. Hammarskjold has not been able to go to Budapest or send observers there as requested by the Assembly.

Republicans Appear Split

HARRISBURG, Jan. 4 (P)—Republicans appeared to be divided today on an idea to keep the 1957 Legislature technically in session indefinitely. This would provide a check rein on the Democratic administration.

Sen. Taylor, president pro tempore, said it was "something to think about." Another GOP spokesman, who declined quotation by name, said it "may not be smart politics."

Under such a plan, the Legislature would remain in session on a standby basis after its regular work is concluded, possibly in six or seven months.

Keeping the lawmakers in technical session until their terms expire Nov. 30, 1958 would give the GOP-controlled Senate the means to block any appointments by Gov. Leader that require confirmation.

FBI Agents Seize Irving Potash, Communist Leader Recently Returned To United States

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (P)—FBI agents tonight seized Communist leader Irving Potash, who slipped back into this country after voluntarily exiling himself to Red Poland.

Details of the arrest were not made public. It was the first information that Potash had returned to the United States. He left Oct. 14, 1949, for conspiracy to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

The government had been trying to deport him since 1948. It accepted his voluntary exile and dismissed the second conspiracy charge.

The G-men grabbed the 54-year-old Potash in a restaurant in Bronxville, just north of the New York City line in Westchester County. He will be arraigned later on a federal charge of illegal reentry into this country.

There was no indication of how Potash managed to get back into the country.

Vice President

A vice president of the old CIO International Fur Workers Union, Potash was one of 11 top American Communists convicted Oct. 14, 1949, for conspiracy to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

He was sentenced to five years in prison. With time off for good behavior, he served three years and five months and was released from Leavenworth, Kan., Federal Penitentiary Dec. 9, 1954.

The government then rearrested Potash on a companion charge of knowingly belonging to a party that advocates violent revolution. Unwilling to risk a further five years in prison if convicted, Potash agreed to leave the country.

Large Crowd Attends

Dinner For Rev. Foose

TANNERSVILLE — Joy and sadness were intermingled as approximately 175 parishioners gathered at the Pocono Fire Hall on New Year's Eve for a farewell dinner party for Rev. William Foose and his family.

In the four and one half years that Rev. Foose has served here at the Tannersville Reformed Charge, he and his family have become very close to the members of the four churches which he served — Grace Reformed, Tannersville; St. Paul's, Swiftwater; Salem, Pocono Lake and St. Mark's, Appenzell. They have also earned a happy welcome in this community, where the parsonage is located.

Special guests at the dinner included Rev. and Mrs. LeRoy Barnard, of the Tannersville Methodist Charge, and Rev. and Mrs. Edward Horn, of the Tannersville

Lutheran Charge. Both ministers spoke of the happy memories of their close associations with Rev. Foose.

Rev. Foose responded with remarks concerning all the pleasant memories of fellowship within the four parishes, as well as in the community.

In token of their appreciation of this hard work and devotion, the presidents of the four consistories each presented a cash purse to Rev. Foose. A personal gift of a quilt from Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Keenhold, of Pocono Lake, was also made to the parsonage family.

A brief program of entertainment was presented. Carol Fraley and Shirley Koerner, of Appenzell, read appropriate poems. A quartet from Swiftwater, Le., Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Werkheiser,

Mrs. Walter Rowe and Lewis Heckman, sang "Whispering Hope." A comedy number, with Mrs. Clarence Werkheiser as the girl, and Mrs. Walter Rowe as the boy, added gaiety to the gathering as they acted and sang "Under the Old Umbrella."

In summarizing Rev. Foose's ministry in the charge, the following report is made, which is inclusive of all four churches. He administered 102 baptismal rites; 27 weddings; and 51 funerals. One hundred and ninety six new members were received into the church, and Rev. Foose conducted 87 Holy Communions in the churches. He preached 466 sermons; as well as visiting the sick and afflicted, those in the hospital, county home and county prison.

The Fooses will reside at 1837 Turner St. in Allentown.

HER WINDOW

The Bennetts live here. That's Grandmother Bennett's Bible on the window sill, and the whole family goes to the church across the snow covered field.

John Bennett works in the local bank. Martha, his wife, is president of the PTA, and they have three lovely children. Grandmother Bennett has been living with them for the past couple of years, since she broke her hip. She can't always get to church in wintertime and that's why she calls this her window. When she can't be in church, it helps to be able to see it.

To her, the church steeple represents a great many things, and brings back many memories. Her son was married in that church. Her husband was buried from it. Her grandchildren were christened in it.

The Church has helped her to bear grief, in hours of sorrow; and it has seemed to put a benediction upon her happiness, in times of joy. Most important of all, whatever the occasion, whatever the crisis . . . the Church has always been there.

To Grandmother Bennett, the most comforting thing in the world is knowing that it always will be there.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Congratulations Due Deputy Sheriffs Whose Alertness Prevented Breach

All too often most of us are too quick to second-guess public officials and others when an honest mistake is made or something unforeseen happens.

Monroe County Jail has been the scene of a number of prison breaks or attempted breaks in past years. Authorities have been the targets of considerable criticism in the wake of these incidents. Some of the attacks have been justified; others have not, perhaps, because all the facts were not understood by those who leveled the criticism.

For example, the present jail is far from modern and this does not make it easy for those who must maintain order and discipline among the inmates. The December grand jury recognized this fact and recommended that a new jail be built.

(New trouble was reported at the jail last night. Cause of the disturbance was not established as this was written.)

It's Taxpayers' Money Government Spends So Let's Quit Wasting It

* Four billion additional dollars of the taxpayers' money has been spent by the Government for the fiscal year 1957, which began last July.

We say "additional" dollars because these four billions were in excess of the original estimate of 65 billions. It now has reached 69 billions.

When we first read this we assumed, as doubtless most Americans did, that the added billions were spent on our defense, to make us safer in the dangerous times in which we live.

Not so, according to the sober, trustworthy and painstaking National Association of Manufacturers, whose Committee on Government Economy conducts a continuing inquiry into government spending. The four extra billions spent so far for fiscal 1957 have been spent for many things, none having to do with defense, according to this important NAM committee.

At the risk of seeming tiresome and repetitious,

George Sokolsky Says...

U. S. Must Defend Middle East To Prevent Russia From Gaining Balance Of Power

In politics, as in most things, a vacuum is abhorred. When the British and French were pushed out of the Middle East, principally by the United States, a power vacuum was established which could be filled only by the United States or Soviet Russia.

Egypt could not fill it because there is demonstrably not enough vitality in Egypt even for self-defense. Israel could not fill it because no other country would permit Israel to expand. India could not fill it because Nehru is only a merchant of compromises without sufficient force to settle the problems of Kashmir which is the native province of his family.

The United States and Soviet Russia permitted Egypt to seize the Suez Canal which was an act of international theft. The United States rejected efforts of Great Britain and France to get their canal back. Soviet Russia armed Egypt and Syria for war. The United States pinioned its policy on the United Nations which has already failed to maintain the peace in Egypt as it has failed to do anything worth noting about an act of cruel imperialism in Hungary.

So it was inevitable that sooner or later, American policy would have to change from a strict pacifism to overt intervention in the Middle East. Therefore the President is asking for

A Prophetess Speaks

Mrs. Gazinta Hall, famed prophetess, was interviewed by us this week on the months ahead.

She said she was certain there would be few changes in the general situation in 1957, unless her ten leaves had been tampered with. "I see a year," she said, "in which there will be some increase in flying saucers, new shaving creams, filter tip smokes and annoying TV commercials. There will be so many new deodorant plugs on the airwaves that a visitor from Mars would get the impression Americans slept in their clothes, lived in clam bars and never took a shower."

Prosperity in America will continue to a point where general dissatisfaction will reach a new high and salary levels hit a stage where everybody can be unhappy instead of just the very rich. I see further strides toward the Utopia where all Americans can have what they can't afford and experience an economic paradise in which life, liberty and the pursuit of a three-car garage can be within reach. I foresee an opportunity for people to go around the world by rocket-plane in three hours and have three years to pay.

American and Asiatic nations will find the U. S. can't lend them

An attempted mass break by a group of prisoners being held in the jail was thwarted the other night by the alertness of two deputy sheriffs, Leonard Hippler and Paul Albertson. When they heard the inmates trying to pry the bars loose from a window, the deputies notified Sheriff Jacob Altemose, who in turn advised State Police.

Troopers Evan Chaplin and John Herling responded quickly in a patrol car. Within moments the escape plot was foiled and an effort to create further trouble was put down.

The fact that the deputies were only acting in the line of duty when they discovered the plot does not detract from their good work. What does matter is that they were alert to the suspicious noises they heard and acted immediately in the best tradition of those whose job it is to guard the public from harm.

Teen-Agers Day Added To February's Events

February, the month already honored by the birthdays of Presidents Washington and Lincoln, is about to have another red-letter day which may in time overshadow both of these.

February 23 has been designated "The Day for Teenagers" by New York's Mayor Wagner as a result of editorial suggestion in the New York Journal-American.

Excellent though it is to accord respect and honor to dead national heroes, we hope one day to see the 23rd become the Day of the Year, when long overdue attention is given to the life and breath of this country—it's young people.

We have made a frightful mistake in appearing to discount our finest resource—our young. Now that the trend is taking a constructive course, we may hope that our chagrin will oil the runners for what may become a proud handwagon in salute to a generation who should know how much we approve of them.

"Eventually a better term than 'teenagers' may be discovered to describe an age group to whom everything important happens.

The teens cover years in which youngsters grow up. At 12 they are children; at 20 they are adults. What treatment have they had at our hands between 12 and 20? Trusting support, loving guidance? Or some sorry indifference?

Enlightened child psychology points out the error of noticing bad behavior in very young children.

It is the observation of many parents, church leaders, any who know young people—that the proportion of actual accomplishment is higher among the young than in our own esteemed vintage.

Youthful standards of behavior are higher than our own. In the arts young people are superior for their age.

In science there is more potential genius now working.

In business there is more ingenuity.

You pick the category. The youngsters outshine us. But because of their "handicap"—youth—we choose to ignore the fresh and imaginative work, ideas and ideals of the majority of teenagers.

"Their leaders are without either physical or moral courage," declared U. Nu. "And most of their followers consist of criminals and riff-raff elements.

The history of the Communist party in Burma is wholly one of conflicting policies and perpetual expediency and duplicity.

The sole purpose of the Communists is to seize power in order to foment a totalitarian despotism and terror on Burma.

If the Communists should gain control in Burma, I am certain that our people would experience a life of utter misery.

That is what has happened in every other country in which they have gained control.

Our hard-won independence would be destroyed, and the precious opportunity of doing good for all the people would be lost. Communism is reaction and terroristic stultification at home, and ignoring what is exemplary.

Good or bad, whatever gets wee ones into scoring position is worth the effort. We are mighty careful to applaud at the right time when the kids are little.

But our position is reversed at a later and broader frame of reference. Who knows what "teenagers" may be up to? The small percent of anti-social misfits impress us so drastically that we have—let's admit it—downgraded an entire generation to the level of its most unsavory depth.

Huffman Elected President Of State Game Commission

C. Elwood Huffman

C. ELWOOD HUFFMAN Huffman, Marshalls Creek resort operator and prominent Pocono Mountains sportsman, yesterday was elected president of the Pennsylvania Game Commission for a one-year term.

He was named to succeed Col. Nicholas Biddle, of Philadelphia, who held the president's post two years.

The action came at the commission's annual meeting in Harrisburg. Also elected were Andrew C. Long, Shamokin, vice president, and Dewey H. Miller, Bedford, secretary.

The commission also voted tentatively to have an antlerless deer season this year and fixed opening dates for other game seasons.

Huffman, a Democrat, was appointed a member of the commission July 12, 1955 by Gov. George M. Leader. He replaced B. K.

Williams, who held the office for many years under Republican administrations. Huffman's term began officially July 25, 1955 and runs to the first Tuesday in January, 1963.

He is a native of Smithfield Township, a son of the late Jay and Edith Huffman, pioneer business people and resort operators in that vicinity.

After graduation from East Stroudsburg High School, he attended Bucknell University and graduated with a BA degree in 1928. Huffman took over operation of the Mountain Lake House at Marshalls Creek upon the death of his father in 1940 and has continued in that capacity from that date.

He is a director of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau, of Eastern Pocono Resort Assn., a Smithfield Township school director 29 years, vice president of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint School Committee since it was formed in July 1955, and a member of the Marshalls Creek Fire Co., a volunteer organization.

In voting yesterday to have an antlerless deer season this year, the commission set Dec. 16 as the possible opening date.

Final action on whether the season will be held, dates and length, will be decided at the group's July meeting.

The commission also set tentative opening dates for the regular deer, archers' deer, small game, bear and snowshoe hare seasons. Bag limits will be established at the July meeting.

The antlerless deer season has annually been a center of controversy in hunting circles, primarily because of the state's present system of issuing the special license required through county court houses in numbers limited according to the deer population in the area.

The season is called when the commission feels that the state's deer herd is too large for available food supplies. During the special season only doe and bucks with antlers less than an inch long may be hunted. The last such season was in 1955.

The commission set the tentative dates "to enable sportsmen to plan their hunting vacations." The commission took this action on other seasons.

Small game: Saturday, Oct. 26. However, the commission is again considering opening the season on Saturday, Oct. 19, for wild turkeys, grouse and squirrels.

Special archers' deer season: Tuesday, Oct. 1. Antlered deer: Monday, Dec. 2. Bears: Monday, Nov. 25. Snowshoe hares: Saturday, Dec. 28.

William Wells Named Chairman Of Red Cross Campaign Scheduled To Be Held In March

WILLIAM WELLS has been named chairman of the 1957 Red Cross Campaign for Members and Funds to be held in March. Wells was introduced by chapter chairman, Charles R. Bensinger, at the Red Cross meeting held this week, with Francis Shinn who will assist in the campaign.

The announcement of the 1957 campaign came just as the chapter received reports that Monroe County had gone over the top in the emergency appeal for funds for Hungarian relief. A total of $1,167.13 has been contributed for the special fund going to the relief of refugees and freedom fighters in Hungary, it was announced. The local quota was $905.

Announcement was also made of two new classes being started under the auspices of the chapter. A Red Cross First Aid Class will be organized Friday, Jan. 11, for Civil Defense workers and all others interested in taking the course. It will be conducted by Mrs. Helen Taylor, Cresco, and other qualified personnel at the Stroudsburg Municipal Building with the first class Jan. 11 at 7:30. Any interested in taking the course is asked to call Red Cross headquarters, 357, before the first class.

Home Nursing

A Red Cross class in home nursing will also start in January. Monday, Jan. 14 is the date of the first class and interested women may register by calling the chapter office.

Wells, the new chairman of the Red Cross campaign, underwent his trial run last year when he was chairman of the Red Cross campaign in Stroud Township. The township exceeded its 1956 quota of $1,200 by turning in $2,000. Wells is a resident of Stroud Township, is past president of the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club, secretary of the Stroud Union School Authority, and is a past member of the Lehigh Valley Social Exchange. He has been active in many other community endeavors and is a member of the firm of A. E. Wyckoff.

Other reports given at the meeting included the fact that during December 63 volunteers gave 673 and three-fourths hours of service on behalf of the blood bank and General Hospital. Roy Mikels, blood donor chairman, reported that in the two December visits, Monroe County had made up all but 32 pints of its deficit in the six-month period. There will be a January visit to the Signal Depot at Tobyhanna.

Firemen estimated the loss at $40,000. The 15-room house was a mass of smouldering ruins after the blaze.

Business Trip

Sooze, who operates a restaurant and cabin colony near the house, was reported in Pittsburgh on business at the time.

He retired from the ring in the early 1940s and since then has been in business in the Pike County resort area.

Sooze reigned as middleweight champion.

Doctors Delay Plans For Sally

DOCTORS

Delay Plans

For Sally

DOCTORS last night delayed removal of bandages from the right eye of Sally Place, 5, East Stroudsburg RD 1.

At Will's Eye Hospital, Philadelphia, where the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norton Place is recovering from an eye injury sustained after Christmas when she was struck by a sharp-pointed toy, surgeons said they did not want to risk removing bandages immediately because Sally is "doing so well."

The hospital told Sally's parents yesterday that their child's sight in her left eye has been unimpaired by the accident and resulting surgery. Bandages were removed from that side of Sally's head Thursday night.

Decision

At the same time, doctors said that it would probably be "from three weeks to three months" before they will know definitely how much sight Sally will be able to retain in her injured right eye.

The girl was injured the day after Christmas while playing at the home of a cousin. She was struck in the right eye by a catapult-propelled plastic rocket ship.

Examined by a local doctor, Sally was rushed to Will's Eye—the most widely known eye hospital in the nation—for an emergency operation. At that time surgeons told the family that there was "about one change in 10" that sight would be restored to her eye.

At home, in Middle Smithfield, neighbors and friends organized prayer offerings for the child.

Last night, Norton Place and his wife expressed their thanks "to all the people who have sent cards and letters to try to cheer Sally up and to all those who have prayed for her."

"But more than anything else," Place said, "We want to thank God for answering their prayers."

Just Between Us
—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, that was an unexpected result and proof that conscience makes cowards of us all. Hinting about some unannounced engagements, I was surprised to learn about several more. Several girls, assuming they were the ones I was talking about, came up to ask who told me.

This is fun. Well, we'll all know in due course, but meantime the girls whose engagements have been officially announced are enjoying some of the fuss and furor that goes along with it, and are being most awfully left-handed about doing things, it seems.

The boys, having provided the proposal and the ring which is back of it all, seem to feel they have done their duty and are lying low.

But speaking of engagements, Dean Kiefer was proudly showing off her new daughter-to-be Peggy Barnes, this holiday. It's the first chance local people have had to meet her since her engagement to Peter was announced at Thanksgiving.

Peggy's been teaching in Colorado Springs and will go back this weekend. Somehow seems as if, as long as we have any of our youngsters in town, the holidays can't be entirely over. Remember when I predicted that the meetings were going to sneak up on us this week? Well, one meeting did on one person—me!

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

It was interesting to learn that Monroe Countians do not intimidate easily. Rather than being canceled because of the Mad Bomber scare, our Wyckoff Travel Bureau excursion to Radio City sold out in a rush, and dozens of would-be excursionists were turned away. Edna Brockman, head of our Travel Bureau, has good news for the disappointed, however—she promises another visit to Radio City in April for the Music Hall's glorious Easter Show. Those who were too late this time, should make it a point to be early birds then.

Edna's visits to our Wyckoff radio broadcast are always pleasant, for she's an easy conversationalist with a delightful sense of humor and a hearty giggle. But when she comes on in the middle of winter, and talks about cruising to Nassau . . . or lolling on the beach of Waikiki . . . or visiting New Orleans . . . or strolling the palm-lined boulevards of Miami, I could willingly throttle her. HOW I'd like to know, can anyone less than a Rockefeller afford a vacation right after CHRISTMAS? Edna insists that a lot of people . . . that our Wyckoff travel business is booming delightfully. She's even busy booking European tours for next summer, and reminds her customers that those wishing to go abroad tourist class in the summer months must make arrangements far, far in advance because of all the teachers and students who travel at that time.

Holt (you may now call him "White Sale") Wyckoff, has issued instructions that from now until further notice I am to say "White Sale" every other word, every time I turn around, and at least once in each sentence. I'm sure if I comply, the column will lose all its readers in a week at most.

Nevertheless, I should like to go along with the idea of reminding all homemakers that there are truly superb values in our January sales of domestics. The Springmaid sheets are really "whiter than white," which accounts for the cute black cardboard eyeglasses the girls there are wearing either atop their heads or suspended from their necks.

But something that has caught my eye is not a sheet or a bedspread, a pillow case or a down-filled pillow. It's a nylon scouring rag that retails at 45¢ and comes in various colors as well as white. Lura Wildrick tells me it does away with the need for harsh cleansers in removing stains from porcelain or enamel . . . and it is recommended for pots, pans, and other troublesome surfaces. This is one investment I intend to make, because I'm told that those who have tried these cloths return again and again for replacements and for giving.

Aside to our Merchandising Manager: All white, Mr. Whitey?

HER VOICE IS THE WORLD OUTSIDE — For Martin Kresge, 13, of Gilbert, his mother's voice is the close link to the world of adventure and discovery. Martin is a polio victim — one of the costliest and worst afflicted in Monroe County's March of Dimes history. Martin's mother, Mrs. Maurice Kresge, reads to him here. This boy, and others like him, are the reason the March of Dimes has chosen "Finish the Job" as its slogan this year. The Salk vaccine, financed by the March of Dimes, has provided the key to conquering polio in the future. But there are still these handicapped among us who must be helped.

Martin Kresge Wages Battle Against Polio

By Leonard Randolph

FOR TWO years Martin Kresge, 13, has spent his life in the confinement of iron lungs, four walls and isolated trips into the outer world.

Martin is a polio victim. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Kresge of Gilbert.

His case is the most eloquent plea to be found in Monroe County for support of the March of Dimes drive.

Since Martin first became ill with polio in October, 1954, the local polio chapter and the National Foundation have spent more than $15,000 on equipment and medical care for him.

The local chapter is now in the process of trying to find new ways to help Martin through recently-discovered, advanced methods of treatment.

In the early months of his sickness, Martin was a patient at St. Luke's Hospital in Bethlehem. There he was confined entirely to a stationary iron lung which filled most of the hospital room in which he lived.

When Martin came home he was wearing a portable, chest-style respirator developed by the National Foundation. He stayed at home for several months, then his condition declined and he was forced to return to St. Luke's.

Through each step of the past two years, Martin has had the help and encouragement of March of Dimes officials and funds from that drive.

Today he sleeps each night in a "rocking bed" which replaces the respirator. All of the equipment used in his illness by the boy and his family has been purchased by the local chapter of the Foundation and loaned to them.

Martin's process of rehabilitation has been a slow and, in many ways, a painful one. But, local chapter officials point out, he is a determined boy, who has seldom been willing to give up a DETERMINED OUTLOOK ON LIFE has given Martin Kresge the power and strength to learn many new things. Among them is his remarkable ability to draw with his toes. Here the boy demonstrates for Joseph Small and Richard Fredenberg, of the local March of Dimes organization, the way in which he creates pictures of horses, snowmen, saddles and animals. Martin was stricken with polio two years ago. He was confined to an iron lung for months.

Jaycees' Plan To Present Auction Sale In February

BEGINNING today you can clean out your cellar or attic and do someone besides yourself a lot of good.

Pocono Mountain Junior Chamber of Commerce, the "Jaycees," is going to hold a public auction on Monday, Feb. 4 at 7:30 p.m. in East Stroudsburg.

The auction will be held in an abandoned market adjoining Monroe County National Bank. All proceeds from it will go to the Jaycees' civic improvement fund for sponsorship of projects in the public interest.

The Jaycees organization is made up entirely of young men 35 years or under who have as their slogan, "Young Men in Action." In this community the organization has sponsored numerous public events such as the annual Easter egg hunt for children, the Voice of Democracy contests for high school students and "Get Out the Vote" campaigns. It has also undertaken such projects as painting street numbers on curbs, aiding the public library and coordinating the 1956 Halloween parade in the boroughs.

The auction, therefore, will be a way of letting residents clean out items for which they have no use, finding users for them and letting both donor and buyer help the community itself. According to Skip Mannix, Jaycees chairman for the project, material found and donated by residents will be picked up by the young men's organization anytime beginning today.

The Jaycees look at it, a lot of people have stored many things away in attics and cellars for which they, personally, have no further use. Most of the time these articles would be extremely valuable and useful to other people.

Stroudsburg Drops LV Tilt

Smith Hall 'Jinx' Strikes Kupice In 60-51 Slater Win

SLATINGTON—The Smith Hall "jinx" which has hovered over John Kupice for the past four years, inserted itself again here last night as an underrated Slatington High five-tripped Kupice's Mountaineers, 60-51.

Stroudsburg, now losers of six straight games here at Smith during Kupice's reign, fought an uphill battle all the way before succumbing to the Slaters in the opening game of the Lehigh Valley League for both schools.

Doug Shook and two of his mates hit in the double figures for Stroudsburg but their output was not enough to halt Slatington. Shook took individual game laurels with 17 and his buddies Bob Adelmann and Don Hickey checked in with 12 and 10 respectively.

Slatington's attack was built around three shotmakers, with Harold Balora leading the parade with 18.

Stroudsburg High realized $142.94 from their one-game stay in the recent Slatington Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Palmerton, the classic' winner, received $337.35 for their sweep through three foes.

Stroudsburg's take was phenomenal when you consider only 197 persons paid their way into Smith Hall the night the Mountaineers were upset by Jim Thorpe. The next three nights of play brought out an average of 1050 people to each doubleheader.

Even with the disappointing 197 at the inaugural, Stroudsburg can still be thankful for $142.94 because the number of Mountaineer players coach John Kupice hauled to the game, far outnumbered the fans from this area who viewed the Stroudsburg setback.

Jim Thorpe, Weatherly and Catawissa, while not having a big "turnout" of diehards, nevertheless brought more backers to Smith Hall.

Harry Warner, who leaves sometime in February for the Washington Senators' training camp in Florida, hopes to hook on with some team in the Pocono Mountain Basketball League for a spell.

Harry, a resident of Readers and one of the area's all-time baseball greats, plans to use the PML activity as preliminary physical conditioning prior to heading to the Nats' Dixie drills.

From this corner, however, Warner looks in the peak of condition and appears ready to solve Charley Dressen's troubled first base problem.

LIKE MOST PRESS PHOTOGRAPHERS this one has his eye out for a beautiful girl. This, as almost everyone knows, is the national [masculine] pastime surpassing even the mass mania known as baseball. In this case the "photographer" is a cardboard and plywood model. For those who prefer to look at the other "models" in the picture, they are (left to right) Miss Eugenie Burke, Dickson City, first "Miss Scranton Press Photographer" and Miss Martha Mayer, last year's winner. They're reminding young women in this area that they are eligible to compete in this year's contest. How? See story below.

Deadline Set For Beauty Pageant

CALLING ALL (beautiful) girls! The 1957 contest to pick a "Miss Scranton Press Photographer" is now nearing the deadline.

Monroe County girls who would like to compete to represent this area should contact either Les Carlton or Rod MacLeod at The Daily Record in Stroudsburg.

Girls from 18 to 25 years old are eligible. Entry forms may be secured from Carlton or MacLeod at The Record office.

Rehearsals for the pageant which will accompany selection of this district's representative in the National finals, will be held on two dates: Jan. 9 and Jan. 16 at the Scranton Photo Shop, 322 N. Washington Ave., Scranton. It is required that girls entered in the contest attend on either of these two dates.

Time

The reporting time will be 7:30 p.m. Dress rehearsal will be held at the Europa Lounge, Scranton on Jan. 19 and the finals will be held at the same location at 3:30 p.m. on Jan. 26.

The local winner will receive an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D. C. to compete in the national finals in March at the Willard Hotel in conjunction with the International Photographic Exposition.

Chairmen of the Scranton affair are Sid Harris, WARM-TV and A. J. (Tony) Sandone, Scranton Tribune chief photographer.
